

TECHNICAL NOTICE

Microsoft Internet Explorer 7 and iMIS version 10.6

Updated April 23, 2007

Microsoft has recently released its GA release (General Acceptance release) of Internet Explorer 7. It has been Advanced Solution International's (ASI) policy to support major third party versions in the iMIS GA release that follows the third party GA. As such, ASI will continue its testing of our next major release on IE7. We will support both IE6 and IE7 in iMIS 15.

IE7 is being released as a High Priority update, not a Critical Update. If you are set to receive automatic updates, IE7 may automatically be downloaded, but does require the user to select it for installation.

Because the current versions of iMIS have not been tested with IE7, ASI does not recommend that it be installed.

However, in the event that you encounter issues with IE7 and iMIS, BSCI and ASI Technical Support will attempt to troubleshoot the issue to determine if a workaround is feasible. It may be necessary to revert to IE6 in order to resolve your particular issue.
